Suicide of a Book-keeper—Funeral of Ex-Senator McConnell — Wisconsin Murderer Arrested—Woman Suffrage and Sorosis Conventions.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—The book-keeper of a clothing establishment in this city suicided at the Sherman House, early this morning, by shooting himself through the heart.

The funeral of the murdered ex-Senator McConnell was very largely attended in Jacksonville, Ill., this afternoon. The obsequies took place in Strawn Hall, where four thousand five hundred citizens assembled. Rev. J. L. Townsend, Rector of Trinity Church, preached the sermon, attributing love of money as the cause of this and the many other daily crimes. Evidence has been accumulated that Robinson is the criminal.

Wesley Nelson, who murdered Lambert, a wealthy farmer residing near Beloit, Wis., on Wednesday, for his money, was arrested yesterday in Savannah, Ill., and is now in jail in Janesville, Wis. He confesses the crime.

The Library Hall Suffrage Convention was very numerously attended to-day. Miss Anna Dickinson, Dr. Mary Heckenpaugh, of St. Louis, and William Wells Brown, colored orator of Boston, were in attendance, beside Mrs. Stanton, Miss Anthony and others. The resolutions reported by the Committee on Resolutions declared that as woman is equally interested with man in having good laws executed, she ought to possess the right of suffrage, and resolving to make a united effort to so frame the new Constitution of Illinois that no distinction shall be made among citizens in the exercise of suffrage. The resolutions, after being discussed, were adopted. A committee of seven was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws for the Women's Suffrage Association of Illinois. Their report was adopted in the afternoon, and Mrs. M. A. Livermore, of this city, was elected President of the new Association. Wells Brown, the colored orator, contended women ought to be educated before they are enfranchised. Miss Anna Dickinson spoke vigorously on several occasions. Mrs. Stanton and Miss Anthony also took a lively part in the exercises. The Convention adjourned this afternoon.

The Music Hall Sorosis Convention was thinly attended. A delegation arrived from the rival Convention, inviting the Sorosisters to unite with them. Several bolted on the invitation, but a few remained and formed the Universal Suffrage Association of Illinois, of which Hon. Jas. L. Knowlton, of Chicago, was elected President. This Convention also adjourned this afternoon.

British Ministry Banquet—Opening of the Spanish Constituent Cortes.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, February 12.—At the banquet to the Ministry at Fishmongers' Hall, last night, Mr. Gladstone remarked: "The last House of Commons had been condemned by the government of the day; that government has been brought to the bar of public opinion on a distinct issue, and the policy of the people is now most clearly defined."

It is stated the Persian army, with the Shah at its head, has gone to Bagdad. In the meantime the Turkish troops are pushing forward to the Persian frontier.

DUBLIN, February 12.—The Mayor will take advantage of the first public levee to present to Queen Victoria a monster petition for amnesty to Fenian prisoners, which has been extensively signed by the corporate authorities of cities and towns throughout Ireland.

SPAIN.

MADRID, February 12.—The Constituent Cortes formally opened yesterday, with great ceremony. The city is profusely decorated in honor of the event. Crowds were in the streets, flags flying, and the day was regarded as a holiday. Serona delivered a congratulatory address on the assembling of the Deputies. He said that the nations of Europe, in attaining a higher degree of civilization, threw off the traditional bonds which fettered the public mind. Spain delayed for a time following the example of her neighbors. She now calls on her representatives to construct a new edifice. The revolution has achieved a bloodless victory. The strength of the nation has not been impaired, but the extravagance of former administrations has disorganized and embarrassed its finances. The government relies upon the Cortes to remedy this by economical forms and changes in the administration, by wise legislation in regard to the public debt and payment of the interest thereon, and by economizing the expenses of the army and navy. The fundamental principles of radical liberalism, which had been adopted in relation to religion, the press and education, by the Provisional Government, must now be consolidated by the action of the Deputies. Our revolution here is not responsible for the rising in Cuba; that is due to the errors of the past government. He expressed the hope that the insurrection there would be speedily extinguished, and that tranquility, based on reform, would be durable. He predicted that slavery would be abolished without precipitation and without compromising the prosperity of the Antilles. In conclusion he congratulated the country on the good relations with foreign nations, now more intimate than ever before.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12, 1868.

WRIT OF PROHIBITION.

James Lyons, of Virginia, to-day in the Supreme Court argued in behalf of that Commonwealth to show it was the inherent right of the Court, under the common law, to issue the writ of prohibition, for which application has been made, setting aside the decisions of Judge Underwood, he having discharged three convicts, two of whom were sentenced to death, on the ground that the State Judges were disqualified from exercising judicial functions under the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Judge Underwood did not appear in Court. Chief Justice Chase announced that the application would be considered.

ANOTHER RAILROAD PROJECT.

Senator Abbott's bill authorizes the consolidation of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad and Southern Pacific Railroad Company of Texas, under the style of the Texas and Pacific Railroad Company, to construct a railroad and telegraph line from Marshall, Texas, to connect with the Atlantic and Pacific line east of the one hundredth meridian, and in aid of the enterprise proposes to grant lands to guarantee interest on bonds to the amount of $40,000 per mile.

OCEAN CABLE.

Senator Ramsey's bill authorizes the American Atlantic Cable Telegraph Company, of New York, to take any practicable route for laying their cable to Europe, and extends the time named in the act of March 29th, 1867, for the establishment of telegraphic communication, to three years from the enactment of this bill.

—The boiler in the distillery of Flanigin, Tillman & Co., at Carondelet, six miles below St. Louis, exploded yesterday and killed David Burk, fireman, and seriously injured another employe.

[THIRD SESSION.]

SENATE: Currency Bill Further Considered--River and Harbor Bill Taken up at Evening Session. HOUSE: Text of the Bill Providing a Provisional Government for Mississippi—Butler's Privileged Resolution Censuring the President of the Senate, and an Accepted Substitute, Laid on the Table —New York and Washington Air Line Railroad Bill Passed —Internal Revenue Law Further Considered and Whisky Amendments Disposed Of.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, February 12, 1868.

SENATE.

Mr. RAMSEY introduced a bill to encourage telegraphic communication with Europe. Referred.

Mr. ABBOTT introduced a bill to aid in the construction of the Texas and Pacific Railroad. Referred.

Mr. CRAGIN, from the Committee on Territories, reported, with amendments, and recommending its passage, the bill to provide for the better administration of justice in the Territories of the United States.

Mr. POMEROY, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported adversely the bill to extend the limits of certain railroad land grants in Iowa and Minnesota; also adversely to the bill amendatory of certain acts of Congress granting lands to the States of Iowa and Minnesota, to aid in the construction of railroads.

Mr. CRAGIN, from the Committee on Territories, reported, with amendments, the bill to provide for the better administration of justice in territories of the United States.

Mr. HOWARD introduced a joint resolution authorizing the Northern Pacific Railroad Company to issue first mortgage bonds to the extent of $30,000 per mile on its main road and branch to Portland, Oregon.

Mr. RAMSEY moved to take up the joint resolution declaratory of the act to establish an American line of mail steamships between this country and Europe. It gives the company another year to build their ships.

Mr. HENDRICKS opposed taking up the bill.

Mr. WHYTE also opposed, and said he would oppose the bill itself. There were already two lines of American steamships from Baltimore.

Mr. NYE asked him what flag those ships sailed under?

Mr. WHYTE admitted they sailed under a foreign flag.

Mr. THAYER was in favor of taking up the bill. He liked at least the object of it, to take our mail carrying business from foreign vessels.

Mr. SUMNER said his course in regard to the proposed line of American steamships would be determined by the degree in which it would cheapen ocean postage.

The motion was still under discussion at the expiration of the morning hour.

Mr. SHERMAN moved to resume the consideration of the currency bill.

On motion of Mr. TRUMBULL, Wednesday was set apart for the consideration of the bill to reorganize the Judicial system of the United States.

Mr. MORTON then addressed the Senate on the bill in relation to the public debt and currency.

Mr. WILLIAMS followed in advocacy of his amendment, providing that not more than $2,000,000 currency shall be converted in any one month. The Senator from Indiana (Mr. Morton) had attacked with equal vehemence the original bill and its defects and the amendment designed to remedy those defects. That Senator seemed determined to oppose every proposition coming from any member of the Finance Committee, without regard to merits. It was well known he (Mr. Morton) had a pet theory upon the subject of finance, and he appeared to think it impossible any one but himself could suggest anything valuable in relation to it, unless the suggestion harmonized with his theory. The Senator from Indiana had argued, and attempted to show from the history of England, that the most disastrous results must follow from any considerable contraction; but it was easy to demonstrate that his own plan of resumption of specie payments, if adopted, would produce a more violent contraction than would be brought about by any other plan yet proposed. The proposition of the Senator was, that the Government should hoard up in the Treasury all the gold it shall receive, except what is used for interest on the public debt, for two and a half years, and then resume specie payments. The gold being thus withdrawn and hoarded, of course it would be most violently contracted. The greenback currency would be contracted and hoarded in another way. A man having ten thousand dollars in greenbacks, worth to-day only seven thousand dollars in gold, would, upon the adoption of the plan of the Senator from Indiana, withdraw it from circulation and hoard it in his safe, having the guaranty of the law that at the end of two and a half years his seven thousand dollars would be worth ten thousand dollars. This would be the inevitable result, because no man would take the risk of ordinary business when he could so profitably hoard his money.

Mr. Williams went on to defend the scheme of the Finance Committee, which, with his amendment, would be the best and safest way yet suggested to bring about what all parties professed to desire, resumption of specie payment.

Mr. SHERMAN opposed Mr. Williams' amendment, because he thought there would arise a difficulty in determining what parties should be entitled to preference in the conversion of greenbacks into bonds, when the amount to be so converted was limited to $2,000,000 a month.

Mr. WILLIAMS said the rule should be, first come first served.

Mr. SHERMAN replied, that according to that rule, a man in or near the Treasury Department could get served first every month.

Mr. WILSON thought the difficulty suggested a very slight one, compared with the great difficulty and injury that would arise from rapid contraction.

Mr. MORTON said the amendment of the Senator from Oregon (Mr. Williams,) was no better than the provision in the original bill, because it proposed to limit the amount of contraction to $2,000,000 a month. But he was opposed to all contractions as uncalled for, unnecessary and utterly useless.

Mr. FESSENDEN thought it would be no wiser to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to issue boads in exchange for greenbacks, and leave the time and amount of the issue to his discretion, than to compel him to make issue in any amount and at a time fixed by Congress.

The Senate then voted on the first clause of the amendment offered by Mr. Williams, limiting the amount of conversions to $2,000,000, all the Senators present voting in the negative except Messrs. Buckalew, Cattell, Davis, Dixon, Hendricks, Howe, Ross, Patterson, (Tenn.) and Williams.

Then, at four o'clock, the Senate took a recess until half past seven.

Evening Session.—The Senate re-assembled at seven o'clock, and resumed the consideration of the River and Harbor bill.

The appropriation for removing obstructions in the East River, at Hell Gate and other places, were reduced to $215,000.

One of the amendments reported by the Committee was to strike out the appropriation of $450,000 toward completing the Louisville and Portland Canal. The appropriation to be made upon the condition that Kentucky relinquish her claim upon the Canal to the General Government.

While the amendment was still pending Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

After some unimportant business, Mr. PIKE, from Naval Committee, reported a bill to pay Commander John A. Winslow and officers and crew of the United States steamer Kearsage $190,000 to be distributed as prize money, being the estimated value of the rebel piratical vessel Alabama, destroyed by the Kearsage on the 19th of June, 1864.

After some discussion, and the insertion of a proviso that no money should be paid to the assignee of any mariner entitled to a share, but only to the mariner himself, his wife or children, the bill was passed—85 yeas, 25 nays.

Mr. BOUTWELL, from Committee on Reconstruction, reported a bill to provide for the organization of a Provisional Government for the State of Mississippi. Ordered printed and re-committed.

The bill is as follows:

A bill to provide for the organization of a provisional government for the State of Mississippi.

SEC. 8. The poll tax levied in any one year upon any citizen of Mississippi shall not exceed one dollar and fifty cents, and all laws in said State for the collection of taxes and debts shall be uniform, and every citizen shall be entitled to all exemptions and immunities in this respect of the most favored citizens or class of citizens.

The House then resumed the consideration of Mr. Butler's privileged resolution, protesting against the manner of the procedure and orders of the President of the Senate pro tem. Mr. Dawes, of Massachusetts, occupied the Chair as Speaker pro tem

Mr. BUTLER concluded his remarks, commenced yesterday, in advocacy of the resolution.

Mr. WOODBBIDGE argued that in counting the Electoral votes, the House was was not a mere cypher, but had rights to sustain and duties to perform, and that the decision of the presiding officer was correct in ordering the tellers to proceed with the count.

Mr. LOGAN said he should not attempt to go over the questions discussed by the various gentlemen who had preceded him. He was in favor of having the rule governing the count of Electoral votes made clear and distinct. He was opposed to the adoption of the resolution, because he held there was no intentional violation of the rule on the part of the presiding officer. He agreed with Mr. Woodbridge, that the error committed by the presiding officer was in receiving the objections of the gentleman from Massachusetts, in the first place. He would not vote for any resolution that would contain the slightest sting or reflection on the brave and patriotic Senator from Ohio, and he purposed submitting a resolution to lay it on the table. So far as the conduct, which had been characterized as disgraceful, was concerned, he had naught to say. He was sorry to witness the scene. It was an exciting moment. There might be some excuse for the conduct that was witnessed. He did not participate in it, nor did he sympathize with either side then or now. Who is it that the House was asked to censure? A man sixty-nine years of age, presiding officer of the Senate, the presiding officer of the Joint Convention—a man who has been twenty years in harness—a man who stood in the vanguard, the old Captain of the Legion of Liberty, on whose head Heaven has showered its boquets of sunshine, who stands as the great living monument of this great age. The House was asked to inflict a stigma on him, because he had accidentally done wrong. Were members ready to do that? Were they ready to assign to ignominy a man who had been born a patriot, lived a patriot, and would die a patriot? Nothing would give him greater satisfaction than to have that resolution withdrawn. He did not believe there was a man in the House who could put his hand on his heart and say that he was ready to censure Ben. Wade, in the idea that he had acted from any improper motive.

Mr. BUTLER—I never did say that. I never shall.

Mr. LOGAN—Hence I say, I should prefer to see the resolution withdrawn.

Mr. BUTLER—I never have believed, and I do not now, that Ben Wade ever meant to do, or ever had done, an intentional wrong; but do believe the privileges of the House have been invaded. That question has been discussed. It is necessary to have legislation, so this will never happen again. Waiving all pride of opinion, and with a distinct enunciation that I have never censured Ben Wade, or meant to, for any intentional wrong of his, but that his act, acting under the Senate's, or whatever influence he was, was an invasion of the privileges of the House, I am ready to withdraw the resolution, and accept a substitute suggested by the gentleman from New York. (Mr. Kelsey.)

Mr. Kelsey's amendment read as follows:

Resolved, That the subject of the amendment of the joint rules governing the Convention of the two Houses for counting the Electoral votes for President and Vice President, be referred to a select committee of five, with power to report by bill or otherwise.

Messrs. Pruyn and Mullen had other substitutes which they desired to offer, but Mr. Logan declined to yield for that purpose.

Mr. FARNSWORTH raised the question of order, that the substitute did not present a privileged question, and was not germain to the original resolution.

Speaker DAWES overruled the point of order.

Mr. FARNSWORTH appealed from the decision of the Chair.

Mr. KELLY moved to lay the appeal on the table. Agreed to—yeas 131, nays 30.

Mr. LOGAN, resuming his remarks, said a longer discussion of the subject would keep up a disturbing element in the House. He had concluded that the discussion and the excitement should cease. He believed that the proper way to arrive at that result was to have the resolution and amendment laid on the table. A resolution might then be offered and referred to a committee, disconnected entirely with the idea of censure, but looking merely to an amendment of the rule governing the counting of the Electoral votes. He therefore moved to lay the whole subject on the table.

The motion was agreed to—yeas 130, nays 55, as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Allison, Ames, Ashley, [Ohio,] Baker, Barnes, Barnum, Beaman, Beatty, Beck, Benjamin, Bingham, Blaine, Bowen, Boyden, Boyer, Broomall, Buckland, Buckley, Burr, Butler, [Tennessee,] Cake, Callis, Cary, Chanler, Churchill, Clark, [Ohio,] Cobb, Coburn, Cornell, Dawes, Dewees, Dickson, Dockery, Dodge, Eckley, Eggleston, Eliot, [Arkansas,] Farnsworth, Ferry, Ferris, Garfield, Getz, Glossbrenner, Griswold, Halsey, Haughey, Hawkins, Heaton, Holman, Hooper, Hopkins, Hotchkiss, Hubbard, [Iowa,] Hulburd, Jenckes, Johnson, Jones, [North Carolina,] Judd, Kelly, Kellogg, Kerr, Ketchum, Kitchen, Knott, Koontz, Laflin, Lash, Lawrence, [Pennsylvania,] Lawrence, [Ohio,] Lincoln, Logan, Loughridge, Mallory, Marvin, McCarthy, McCormick, Miller, Moorhead, Morrill, Newshall, Niblack, Nichoison, Norris, Nunn, O'Neill, Orth, Paine, Perham, Peters, Pettis, Phelps, Pile, Plants, Poland, Palsley, Pomeroy, Prince, Pruyn, Randall, Raum, Robertson, Sawyer, Scofield, Shellabarger, Smith, Spalding, Starkweather, Stewart, Stokes, Stone, Taylor, Thomas, Twitchell, Upson, Van Aernam, Van Anken, Van Horn, (N. A motion was made to reconsider and laid on the table, which closes the matter,

Messrs. Cook, Pomeroy, Dickey and Pettis, who were in favor of the bill, were paired off with Messrs. Kerr, Sitgreaves, Myers and Hill, who were opposed to it.

Mr. WOOD moved to amend the title by making it read "A Bill to deprive the States of their constitutional jurisdiction over State territory, and to take the control of the Railroad interests of the country."

Mr. PRUYN asked leave to offer the following:

Resolved, That in view of the question which arose on the late counting of the votes for President and Vice President of the United States, it be referred to the Committee on Revision of Laws, to inquire into the expediency of such legislation as may be necessary in such cases, and also to provide that the Attorney General prepare and forward to the Govenors of the several States proper forms which may be used by Electors of President and Vice President in the discharge of the duties which devolve upon them by law.

Objected to by Mr. BENJAMIN, of Missouri.

The House then, at half past four, took a recess until half past seven, the evening session to be exclusively for the consideration of the tax bill.

Evening Session—The House met at 7:30, in Committee of the Whole, Mr. Schofield in the chair, and resumed the consideration of the amendments reported from the Committee of Ways and Means, to the Internal Revenue bill.

The proposition giving the appointment of all subordinates to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, instead of the Secretary of the Treasury, was agreed to, with the understanding that if the House refuse to erect the Internal Revenue Bureau into a separate department, the amendment would be struck out.

Various formal amendments were proposed by Mr. SCHENCK and agreed to.

Section 59 was amended by making the special tax on distillers two hundred dollars a year, where they produce fifty barrels or less, instead of four hundred dollars on distillers producing one hundred barrels, with four dollars for each additional barrel; also, by modifying it so that a distiller who re-distills so as to refine shall not have to pay tax as a rectifier, and that all compounders of liquors shall be treated as rectifiers.

These concluded the amendments of the Committee of Ways and Means to the whisky sections.

Mr. MAYNARD moved to make the special tax on distilleries, referred to in the preceding paragraph, one hundred dollars a year on distillers producing twenty-five barrels or less.

Mr. SCHENCK opposed the amendment.

After about an hour's discussion as to the policy or impolicy of crushing out small distilleries, and particularly such as distil from apples, peaches and grapes, the amendment was adopted.

Section 56, referring to distilled spirits in bonded warehouses, was, on motion of Mr. SCHENCK, amended by requiring withdrawal on or before the 20th of April, 1869.

Mr. KELLY moved to amend by extending the time to the 20th of April, 1870, and spoke in explanation and advocacy of this amendment.

Messrs. BECK and COVODE also spoke in its support.

Messrs. SCHENCK and ALLISON opposed it.

Vote being taken there was no quorum and the amendment was temporarily withdrawn.

The Committee rose and the House adjourned.

SHADOWS.

BY FAITH LYLE.

On the bosom of the twilight,
Of the twilight purple gold,
Fades the glory of the daylight,
Blends new beauty with the old,
And I see the shadows thicken,
See them flitting ever more,
Watch them in their weird-like flitting,
Dance o'er ceiling, wall and floor.

Thro' the evening gloom and dimming,
See them steal as fairy things;
Noiseless in their ghostly skimming
As the flap of angels' wings.
Gentle they as murmuring waters,
Holding woe and care in thrall,
Mingling with the rays of fire light,
Painting pictures on the wall.

Pictures of loved ones departed,
In each varied shape I see;
The beloved, blest, long parted,
Rise now fresh in memory.
Pictures of the living dear ones,
Who yet tread the vale of life,
Drinking of its cup of sunshine,
Battling with its waves of strife.

They have gone where shades of sorrow
Never more on them will frown;
From the Cross no trials they borrow,
But now joyful wear the Crown.
We who stay yet meet life's shadows,
Mingled shades that o'er us creep,
Yet we humbly bear the burdens,
Knowing "He who gave can keep."

But the twilight, growing weary,
Ushers in the brilliant stars
Which illume the night so dreary,
With the moonbeams' silvery bars.
Thus, when life's last, solemn shadows
Loving, fall o'er those I love,
May God's love, so pure, immortal,
Shadow them in realm's above.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

It is really refreshing in these progressive times to read such valuable suggestions, by one occupying a high place in the Church of God, as are found in the pastoral letter of Right Rev. A. Cleaveland Coxe, D.D., Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Western New York. The immediate object in view was the approaching season of Lent, but the Bishop takes occasion to remind the people that the indulgence of attending theatrical exhibitions and the lasciviousness of dances, are "disgraceful to the age and irreconcilable with the Gospel of Christ," and he warns those who indulge in these pleasures not to presume to come to the Holy table. The Bishop thinks it is high time that the lines should be drawn between worldly and Godly living. But the most humiliating thought in the pastoral is that any professing Christian should dare to commit the sin and blood guiltiness of ante-natal infanticide, as to require the reproof of a Chief Minister of any denomination. This evil the Bishop fearlessly meets and denounces in severe terms, and says that persons guilty of such sacrifices to Moloch, which defile our land, cannot inherit eternal life. He argues that if there be a special damnation for those who "shed innocent blood," what must be the portion of those who have no mercy upon their own flesh? We honor the Bishop for his noble and manly words, and hope every pulpit in this community, and elsewhere, may speak out in tones of thunder, and rebuke this crying sin of the age, and pollution among professing Christians.

Rev. W. F. Mallalieu, pastor of one of the Methodist Episcopal Churches in Boston, by invitation addressed the Massachusetts Protestant Episcopal Convention quite recently, on the best method of uniting the two Churches.

The Board of Managers of the American Bible Society have decided to discontinue the customary public exercises, heretofore held in connection with the annual meeting of the Society on the second Thursday of May, and simply hold a business meeting for the acceptance of the reports and to choose officers. As this Society inaugurated the custom in 1816, and thus gave interest to the occasion of "Anniversary Week," it is to be seen what effect will follow the discontinuance of the custom.

About twenty years ago Rev. J. D. Collins, of Michigan, offered himself to the Methodist Episcopal Board to go as missionary to China. The Board declined for want of funds. Mr. Collins then requested Bishop Janes to engage him a passage before the mast, saying that his "own strong arm should pull him to China, and support him after arriving there." The Board took steps to found the China mission in 1847. Ten years passed away before a single convert was made. There are now seven missionaries, with nine assistants and fifteen native preachers. The total membership is four hundred and sixty-eight members and three hundred and fifty-three probationers.

R. G. Pardee, well known to active Sunday school workers in this city, died recently, in New York, after a brief illness. He was much beloved for his catholic unsectarian feelings, in promoting the cause of Sunday Schools.

Rabbi H. Z. Sneersolm, of Jerusalem, by invitation will deliver a lecture in New York, February 17th, on the subject of the "condition of the Jews of Palestine."

The Episcopal Seminary, in New York, are about to apply to the Legislature for authority to confer honorary degrees in Theology.

It is gratifying to record the liberality of our city churches to promote the cause of Missions. Sunday week, the Second United Presbyterian church, of this city, Rev. T. H. Hanna pastor, took up a collection for the different Mission Funds of that body, which amounted to the noble sum of three thousand six hundred dollars.

Five years ago, the present editors and proprietors of the Presbyterian Banner took charge of that paper. However excellently well the paper was conducted by its previous owners, its growth has been steady and rapid under the management of Dr. Allison and Prof. Patterson. We congratulate these gentlemen upon the success which has crowned their efforts, to provide a journal worthy of the support of Presbyterians, as well as by the lovers of a high toned literature.

The Methodist church of Saratoga, New York, has resolved to censure any member who may sign an application for a liquor license. This is in keeping with the Discipline and custom of the Church for all time. If any infringement has occurred, the proper authority has neglected to enforce the rule.

The Episcopal Methodists of New York, feeling the need of some aggressive step, and to meet the necessities of the city among the poorer class of people, have determined to raise half a million of dollars at once for church extension purposes in that city. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars has already been received, and steps have been taken to collect the balance at the earliest possible date.

According to recent statistics the number of Congregational churches in the United States is three thousand and sixty-nine, with a membership of not quite three hundred thousand, of which over one-tenth are reported "absent." The additions by profession during the past year were nearly seventeen thousand. The additions by letter nearly twelve thousand.

The Executive Committee of the Society for the Increase of the Ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church, request the brethren of the Church throughout the country to observe Friday of the next Ember week, the nineteenth day of February, as a day for special prayer in churches, in families and in closets, that it would "please the Almighty God, by His Holy Spirit, to incline the hearts of many faithful men to dedicate themselves" to the holy ministry, and that He will direct and prosper divinity students in their studies and fit them for their holy calling.

CHRONOLOGY.

—Sunday will be the 469th anniversary of the murder of Richard II.

—It is to-day just 49 years since the assassination of the Duke de Berri.

—The wonderful Italian sculptor in ivory, Benvenuto Cellini, died 293 years ago to-day.

—Capt. James Cook was unfortunate enough to be killed at Owyhee just 90 years ago to-morrow.

—Cotton Mather, the austere Puritan and witch condemner of Boston, died in 1728, just 141 years ago to-day.

—Catharine Howard, the unfortunate queen of Henry VIII., was beheaded in 1543, just 326 years ago to-day.

—One hundred and fifteen years ago to-day, in the year 1754, Prince de Talleyrand, the renowned diplomatist, was born.

—Sir William Blackstone died in 1780, just 98 years ago to-morrow. This Sir William is the man who wrote some commentaries, of which some of our readers have undoubtedly heard.

—To-morrow, the 14th, is St. Valentine's Day. That worthy but unfortunate old gentleman had the ill luck to be beaten to death and was afterwards beheaded. Some portions of the corpse are missing but the greater part is preserved in the Church of St. Praxedes at Rome. The well known gate in the Eternal City called the Porta del Popolo was once named, in honor of this unfortunate first valentine, Porta Valentini.

Remarkable Pastoral Letter by Bishop Coxe.

The Protestant Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of Western New York has issued the following pastoral letter, appropriate to the season of Lent:

* * * "The enormities of theatrical exhibitions, and the lasciviousness of dances are too commonly tolerated in our times, are there so specially pointed out as disgraceful to the age and irreconcilable with the Gospel of Christ, that I feel it my duty to the souls of my flock to warn those who run with the world to 'the same excess of riot' in these things, that with other abominations 'the world, the flesh and the devil.' Let all such choose deliberately whom they will serve; and if salvation be worth striving for let them be pursuaded to a sober life, to self-denials, and to the pure and innocent enjoyments which the Gospel not only permits, but which it only can create. It is high time that the lines should be drawn between worldly and Godly living, and I see no use in a Lent that is not sanctified to such ends.

"I have heretofore warned my flock against the blood guiltiness of ante-natal infanticide. If any doubts existed heretofore as to the propriety of my warnings on this subject, they must now disappear before the fact that the world itself is beginning to be horrified by the practical results of the sacrifices to Moloch which defile our land.* Again I warn you that those who do such things cannot inherit eternal life. If there be a special damnation for those who shed 'innocent blood,' what must be the portion of those who have no mercy upon their own flesh?

'Dearly beloved, 'save yourselves from this untoward generation.'

"Your affectionate Bishop.

"A. Cleveland Coxe,

'Bishop of Western New York, and in charge of the Diocese of Central New York.

"Hartford, Janury 30, 1869.

"I ask attention to an article on "Population," which appears in Harper's Magazine for Februry, 1869.

The young and enormously wealthy Marquis of Bute, who has gone over to the Roman Catholics, is described as a mild-faced lad, of gentle, regular features, with his hair parted in the middle, rather over his forehead, and looking a good deal like a girl in boy's clothing. At school he eschewed masculine sports, preferring keeping bees and reading—often books on Roman Catholicism. His mother was of that religion; an ex-actress married to an old peer who had no children by his first wife, and was not expected to have any by his second. The income of the Marquis, who has just turned twenty-one, is $1,500,000 gold.

CLIPPINGS.

Dr. Livingstone, the famous African traveler, has not yet made his appearance at Zanzibar, as anticipated by Sir Roderick I. Murcheson, the President of the Royal Geographical Society, The latest foreign mails state that letters have been received in London, from Zanzibar, dated November 26, 1868, at which time nothing had been heard respecting Dr. Livingstone, for a long period. The latest news reported him to be in Cazembe's country a year ago. Dr. Kirk, writing from Zanzibar, says, "There is no knowing where he is," but Mr. Waller is of the opinion that there is no actual need for much anxiety. Moosa, the attendant, who reported Livingstone's death in a detailed account, which excited so much argument in England, has been released by Dr. Kirk, after having passed eight months in heavy irons.

New Naturalization Laws.—The House Committee on Revision of Laws have agreed on a bill relative to naturalization, which they will report as soon as possible. It provides that hereafter all naturalization shall be done in the United States Courts; that Registers in Bankruptcy may take evidence, but shall not issue certificates; that all applicants for naturalization must give notice beforehand of their intention; that any citizen may appear before the Court and state his objections to the naturalization of the applicant; that certificates of naturalization may be issued at the end of four years and six months thereafter. The purpose of the bill, it will be seen, is to make naturalization a judicial process.

The Hartford Copper mine in Canada smelts fifty tons of ore daily. One hundred and thirty men are employed at the works. The ore is mined at a distance underground of 380 feet, whence it is drawn to the surface by a railway propelled by horse power. The per centage of rock in the copper is about five per cent., and when manufactured into "matt" or "regulus" thirty to forty per cent. of pure copper is obtained. It is estimated there are 25,000 tons of copper ore in sight, and doubtless more will be discovered as explorations are pushed on.

Mary Clemmes Ames says that Elizabeth Cady Stantion embodies in her person the noblest type of the American matron. Her white hair curls closely about her fine forehead, her dark eye, quick and earnest, flash under its wide arches, clear reflector of every feeling and thought within. Her features are noble, the lines of the mouth as sweet as they are strong, her dress rich and quiet. She has powerful magnetism as a public speaker, for all the forces of her rich personality seem fused into her words. She is logical, earnest and eloquent, and never man, nish in manner.

The Rev. Dr. McCosh, the new President of Princeton College, is exceedingly successful in gaining the attention and confidence of the young men under his charge. He is not only one of the profoundest scholars and ablest theologians of the Presbyterian Church, but he also retains the hearty, social usages of the Scottish clergy, among whom he grew up. He plays a capital game of whist, and does not think a good glass of wine, on proper occasions, is any more a violation of the sacred law of temperance, than eating a good beefsteak.

Cheap Restaurants.—It is asserted that there is not another city in the United States where the same amount and variety of good food can be obtained, for so little money, as in San Francisco. In one restaurant of that city over one thousand persons take their meals daily, at an expense of ten cents each, and with wine and desert for twenty-five cents. Green turtle steak, bread and butter and celery are mentioned as prominent articles in the bill of fare, which is served up in good style, with clean napkins and table cloths.

The following eight railroads are in progress in Pennsylvania: Wilmington and Reading, Pittsburgh and Connellsville (extension,) Columbia and Port Deposit, Philadelphia and Baltimore (extension,) Plymouth Railroad, Lancaster, Lebanon and Pinegrove, Pennsylvania and New York Canal and Railroad Navigation. The Danielsville, Hazelton and Wilkesbarre, connecting the Lehigh Valley Railroad with the Philadelphia and Erie and the Northern Central, forms a most important link.

The Cincinnati Gazette says: It is reported, on pretty good authority, that the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company paid the managers of the "Ben. Smith roads" fifteen per cent. more than the market value of their stocks and bonds, in order to secure a rejection of the Erie lease. The Erie proposition, which was rejected, was much better for the stockholders than the Pennsylvania lease, which was accepted, but the bonds paid to the "managers" who held the proxies, did the business.

Here is Don Piatt's description of Parton: "Parton is a thin, queer, gentlemanly-looking man who carries forty-eight on his countenance. Above the medium height, he is slender and ends in a head round and smallish. He has an off eye, a hooked nose, prominent chin, coarse, dark hair, that encroaches on his forehead, and whiskers to match—rather thin and uncertain, and struck me as resembling Don Quixote in youth, and in delicate health."

St. Petersburg is crazy over Patti. At her first appearance she was recalled fifteen times after each act, seventy bouquets of camelias, costing there about $70 each, were thrown to her, during the entre acts she sat in the Emperor's box and all the nobility crowded to see her, and after the performance she had to slip out by the Ministers' entrance to avoid an enthusiastic crowd that was waiting to carry her off in triumph.

John C. Breckinridge arrived at Baltimore on Saturday. His arrival was not known until to-day except among a few of his intimate friends. He is staying with his brother-in law, Rev. Mr. Bullock. The secessionist sympathizers are jubilant, and desirous of doing him public honor. It is understood, however, that he desires to keep as private as possible at present.

Mr. Seward has served longer as Secretary of State than any other in our history. Mr. Madison was the only other full termed Secretary of State in eight years. John Quincy Adams would have been included in the list but that when he was appointed he was absent from the country, and did not enter upon the duties of the office until six months after Mr. Monroe was inaugurated.

Both of the prominent candidates for the Speakership of the House, like Colfax, the presiding officer of the Senate during the next Administration, are journalists, or have had journalistic training.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, February 12, 1868.

The market, if we take the views of the brokers, is in an unsettled condition, with but comparatively little doing. Some of the commission men reported the market dull and weak, with a drooping tendency; while others reported it steady, with no great accumulation of stock, and that prices were firm and fully sustained. It was generally conceded, on all hands, that the feeling is not quite as strong as it was a couple of weeks since, while prices have compared no essential change, one way or the other. The advices from the east are rather unfavorable.

Financial Matters in New York.

Gold Closed at 135@135¼.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, February 12, 1869.

MONEY.

Money is abundant and easy at 5@7 per cent. on call. The spring trade is constantly increasing and business is 25 to 50 per cent. greater than last year. The principal purchasers are for the South, who take a large amount of goods, paying cash for a considerable portion thereof. The West is not buying freely, and, the Express says, is behind in her payments. Sterling heavy and lower at 9@9¼c. Gold was steady most of the day, closing a trifle easier; it opened at 135¼, touched 135⅜, and closed at 135 @135¼. Clearances, $57,000,000.

BONDS AND STOCKS.

Governments are active and higher under the prices from abread, and the firmness of London and Frankfort shows an improving confidence in our securities, and a further advance is predicted here. The advance to-day of ⅛@1 per cent. being most marked on old 65's, the demand was heavy for shipment and home investment. Foreign bankers took 3 or 4,000,000 of 62's, 65's, 67's and Ten-Forties. The demand for borrowing is heavy. Coupons of 1881, 111½; do. '62, 114¼@114½; do. '64, 111¾@111⅞; do. '65, 113¾@113¼; new do., 110¾@110¼; do. '67, 110⅜@110½; do. Missouris, 87¼; new Tennessees, 66¼@66½; North Carolinas, 61¼@61¾; Virginias, 62¼; Louisiana Levee Sixes, 67; Alabama Sixes, 94¼. Northern and Western bonds firm, with few offerings.

Stock market dull, and though there was some irregularity during the day, the market is generally steady. Toledo and Michigan Southern were the features, and higher.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Cotton is dull and lower, with sales of 2,000 bales middling uplands at 30c. RIVER NEWS.

The river was apparently about at a stand last evening with nine feet six inches in the channel, by the Monongahela marks. Weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, with a sharp white frost in the morning, which at this season of the year, is regarded as a precursor of rain. Mercury at four P. M. 60.

Business was moderately active at the landing vesterday, the offerings of freight being fair, but under the influence of a sharp competition, prices are low, and there is not much show for a boat to realize much, even if she does secure a full cargo.

Boats in port—Glendale, Grey Eagle, Kate Putnam, Lorena, Maggie Hays, Wanaanita, Sallie, New York, Wild Duck and Armadillo.

The Wild Duck Barges, Capt. Anawalt, are announced to leave for St. Louis today, and shippers should bear this in mind.

The Grey Eagle, Captain C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving at noon.

The Glendale, Capt. Hare, is filling up steadily for St. Louis, and will leave to-day without fail, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. The veteran Capt. Jas. Mellon still retains charge of the office.

The Kate Putnam, Capt. G. W. Reed, will depart for Nashville at an early day next week.

The Kenton was due from Portsmouth last evening, and will return again this afternoon.

The Armenia was momentarily expected from New Orleans last evening, and will doubtless be found in port this morning.

The Sallie left for Louisville last evening with a good trip, her guards being almost down to the water.

The Wauanita, Capt. Shuman, will be the first boat out for New Orleans. Capt. J. H. Lightner has charge of the office.

—Another very wise rule in regard to steamboats was passed at the present session of Supervising Inspectors at Washington City, to wit: That it shall not be permitted when making storage on steamers for any person to obstruct the full and free passage of the engineer from his engines to his boilers, or to any part of the machinery requiring his care and attention. An observance of this rule is required to be strictly enforeed, and any failure on the part of the owners or masters to comply with such regulation will be sufficient cause to find action against the steamer so offending. Engineers upon our Southern and Western waters will, we have no doubt, fully appreciate and acknowledge the merits of such enactment. As a general rule, their interests and comforts have been very little respected, especially on the class of steamers engaged in the transit of baled cotton and light merchandise.

—A Lousville telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial says: The Richmond is due from New Orleans. Napoleon Jenkins, the pilot of the America, is in the city. The grand jury of the United States Court is in session, but, as yet, no indictment has been found against any of the officers of the America or United States, and it is not known whether any witnesses will be brought before the jury or not. To-morrow the case of Rev. Father Bachman, who was blown up on the General Lytle, for damages against Z. M. Sherley and others, will be commenced.

—Mr. Josiah Cammity, (says the Cincinnati Enquirer) first engineer on the steamer Alaska, has, perhaps, been engaged as engineer on the river for a longer period than any now in commission, having entered the service in 1834 in that capacity, since which time no accident has occurred to engines in his charge. His statements in regard to the changes in steamboating and the "settlements" on the river, gives us a fair idea of the great progress since that time."

—The steamer Mary Byrd, recently sunk near the Half-Moon Island, Tennessee River, arrived in port at Chattanooga, Thursday evening. The damage done to her hull can be repaired in a few days. Her bow was stoved in and she settled to the bottom in six minutes afterward. She was raised by building a confferdam across her bow just in front of the stairway, and bailing her hull aft the dam. Her cargo was but slightly damaged.

—The Glasgow and Emperor were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 80⅞.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 135⅛.

GENERAL GRANT will be officially notified to-day, of his election to the Presidency, a Joint Committee of the two Houses of Congress bearing the communication.

THE ENGLISH CONVENTION relative to the rights of naturalized citizens will be ratified by the Senate. The Alabama treaty will be amended, but probably not so as to be acceptable to the English Government.

THE SENATE votes to permit the construction of a bridge over the Ohio, at Cincinnati, with spans not less than four hundred feet wide over the channel, and reserving to Congress the future right to direct modifications of the structure.

ON THURSDAY, Washington gossip expressed a general apprehension that nothing would transpire as to the new Cabinet, until the inauguration of the President, or, at least, until the Tenure-of-Office question should be disposed of. On Friday, there was "authority" for saying that the names of the Cabinet are to be announced next week. Politicians are anxious, and the country is calm—and each with reason.

THINK as we please, of the temper and discretion with which certain of the Representatives have maintained their convictions of right; hold the Georgia vote to have been really admissible or inadmissible in point of law; yet it is nonsense to deny to the House the same functions, co-extensive with those of the Senate, in the canvass of the Electoral vote. The points which were made by BUTLER and SCHENCK on Wednesday and Thursday, in their appeals to the House to maintain its privilege, are simply incontrovertible by logic or under the Constitution. Failing to sustain them by an affirmative vote on the BUTLER resolution, the House should forthwith reconsider and reverse its vote excluding Georgia the other day.

THE Ohio Institution for the education of the Deaf and Dumb, located at Columbus, was formally opened, or dedicated, on Thursday evening last, about eight hundred persons being present on the occasion, including the State officers, members of the Legislature, and officers of the public institutions. The building is one of the finest and largest in the country. The estimated cost is $625,000. A gentleman of this city, who was present at the opening exercises, which took place in the magnificent Chapel of the institution, describes the scene and the performances in glowing terms, particularly the exhibition of pantomime, illustrative of the language of Mutes, several of the inmates acting stories and the Superintendent interpreting to the audience. The charity is a noble one, and the State is worthily administering it.

THE present capital stock of the Erie Railway is $57,765,300; its preferred stock $8,546,000—total $66,301,300. This aggregate has been in part reached by the issue, within thirteen months past, of $33,000,000 of convertible bonds, which have accordingly been sold, at forty per cent. and upwards. This explains how that ring has come by the money, which it is now lavishing right and left. Indeed, one of its leading members recently testified, at Albany, in effect that it would be death to them to stop their paper-mill. Their expenditure has been mainly for railways and newspapers, with nearly all of these, especially such as are situated in Pennsylvania, substantially worthless for assets.

The capital stock of the New York Central was $28,796,000, but the recent eighty per cent. addition swells the total to about $54,000,000.

The stock of the Hudson River road now stands at $16,012,899.

LOOK at the inconsistencies involved in the action of the Joint Convention of Congress, last Wednesday! For example, upon the question whether, or not, Georgia is legally a State, and so entitled to the canvass of her Electoral vote, the two Houses disagreed: the Senate, which declined to admit the Georgia Senators because she is not yet a State, now voting to receive her Electoral ballots, because her State rights are forfeited, and the House, which has given seats to the Georgia Representatives because Georgia is a reconstructed State, now rejecting the Electoral vote because Georgia is not reconstructed as required by law. Future consistency, therefore, requires the Senate to admit Messrs. HILL and MILLER at once, and the House should turn out Georgia's pseudo-Representatives neck and heels.

Again, the vote of the House rejecting the Georgia ballots, on Wednesday, in effect committed that body against the Georgian claim to perfected reconstruction, and yet the same body now hesitates to assert its unabated and equal right, with the Senate, to take such position as the judgment of its own majority may approve.

Again, by EDMUNDS' resolution, both Houses agreed beforehand that the Georgia question should be dodged, when encountered. Yet the moment that it really loomed up before the Convention, each House made haste to vote separately upon its merits, and committed themselves on opposite sides. If the EDMUNDS resolution meant anything, it meant an evasion, and was itself promptly repudiated, when the pinch came, by a decisive yea and nay vote in each House.

It has been the impression that Congress would remand Georgia back to her provisional government, with JOSHUA HILL for the Governor. How will it look for the Senate to take that action now, after its decision on Wednesday to admit the vote of the State?

It is simply impossible so to adjust the Georgia question now, that either one House or the other can avoid taking a square back-track.

THE NEW WATER WORKS.

A few weeks ago we gave, in these columns, a pretty full synopsis of the Preliminary Report of W. MILNOR ROBERTS, Esq., on the subject of the proposed new water works for Pittsburgh, and doubtless many of our readers have seen and carefully examined the full report. So we need not enter anew upon the details of that subject.

At the meeting of the Councils of Allegheny City on Wednesday evening, a memorial was presented and read, asking that negotiations be entered into with the Councils of Pittsburgh, to effect, if possible, some just and materially advantageous arrangement, under which both cities may unite in the enterprise, and thus secure for all time an adequate supply of pure water. A copy of that communication will be found in our columns this morning.

It will be recollected that Mr. ROBERTS suggests in his report—and we think wisely—the creation of a water power for the purpose of pumping up the water, as is done at the Fairmount works at Philadelphia, at a cost vastly below that of steam. This would require the erection of a dam across the Allegheny river somewhere at or above Negley's Run. Now, suppose Pittsburgh should adopt that plan, which is probable, then Allegheny will be obliged to do one of two things—either negotiate with Pittsburgh for a supply of water from that source at a disadvantage, or continue to pump by steam power for all time to come; for it is not possible to erect more than one dam. If Pittsburgh should secure that one, then Allegheny is out.

The questions, therefore, that the gentlemen signing this communication have raised are these: First, Would it be better for the two cities to carry out this important and costly enterprise jointly, or to go on as heretofore, each pumping up its own water? and, secondly, Would it be wisdom on the part of the people of Allegheny to let go the only chance they ever can have of securing, on equal terms with their neighbors, the use of water power for throwing up their supply? Let them be carefully and dispassionately considered.

PRECIOUS LEGACIES.

Through all the agitations and convulsions of modern times, Spain has maintained a sinister reputation for immovableness. It has apparently been less swayed than any other European nation by the general progress of ideas, whether in the field of abstract speculation or in the realm of practical investigation. Its immobility has at once inspired wonder and excited contempt.

Still, to careful observers, signs have not been wanting that underneath the unrippled and placid surface of Spanish society, a profound ferment was going on, analagous in all respects to that felt by other civilized communities. Thinkers reached this conclusion by the shorter cut of analysis, inferring that mountain barriers were just as incapable as narrow friths of stopping the spread of opinions. Each age has its peculiar manifestations of views and purposes. Majorities everywhere sympathise, in a greater or less degree, in the new impulses. Even minorities are impregnated to a larger extent than they are willing to confess; perhaps, than they are distinctly conscious of. Whatever is in the atmosphere, finds its way into the lungs, and thence into the circulatory system, of all individuals, the adherence or assimilation of the unusual properties varying according to the idiosyncracies of each man, woman and child.

The governing classes of Spain, in Church and State, have known something of this, but not much. Necessity for constant repression, both in politics and religion, were laid on them, but they miscalculated the actual forces by which they were confronted. It is almost always so with dominant castes, in those decisive periods when their prerogatives come to be challenged. When LUTHER started, the Pope was altogether ignorant of the degree to which the ground on which he rested had been undermined. LOUIS PHILLIPE summoned the representatives of foreign powers, to see how easily he would suppress the disturbance that shook down his throne, and sent his dynasty into exile. In the United States, there was no statesman that forecasted aright the issue of the long debate that preceded the Rebellion. Only THEODORE PARKER, using his pulpit for a perch from which to gain an outlook, decided in advance that it was time to put his surplus money into powder and balls. When did not a great national convulsion come as a thief in the night? The earthquake does not send couriers before it, to tell of its approach.

The development of ideas is as silent as any other process in Nature—as that imperceptible change by which all the particles of each human body are taken away and renewed; thus making a new being, while not impairing identity or destroying self-consciousness. The people of Spain submitted to spiritual and temporal despotisms, and in ways that seemed to signify they were pleased therewith, long after all substantial foundations for such despotisms had been taken away. Freedom of assembly and of the press not existing, the people were without the best means of arriving at such an understanding of the drift of popular opinion as to make concert of action possible. They had to feel their way cautiously, through furtive and casual contacts, and by that intellectual and moral magnetism, which, subtle and impalpable, is yet unerring and ample in the guesses, if not absolute knowledge, it imparts to the more gifted natures, and to all natures in supreme emergencies. But, it happened to them as it always happens to masses swept onward in any of the great movements of the race, that they came to understand each other before their rulers them, or what was impending.

Civil and religious liberty in Spain! The announcement must strike as a death-knell upon the ears of conservatism everywhere. And this liberty, proximately as the result of a Revolution! This latter consideration touches not a few who are not conservatives, but who are inclined to put undue stress upon moral and mental instrumentalities, and to ignore force as a relic of barbarism. Doubtless, those influences which fall under the general designation of moral suasion, have their place, and a large place, in the economy of the world. But they are by no means exclusive of all other sorts of instrumentalities. It will correct errors on this head, if we consider the whole scope and upshot of the Temperance discussion. Drunkenness is an appalling social evil. Few families are without one or more victims to it. Apostles have exhorted with the most persuasive eloquence. Organization after organization has sought to secure the innocent and to reclaim the fallen. Yet the long procession of the ruined remains unthinned. Individuals, here and there, have been rescued, and so great good accomplished; but it may well be doubted, if in proportion to population more intoxicating beverages are not consumed now than before the Temperance agitation commenced. The agitation against slavery in this country progressed for thirty years, drawing into it more genuine intellect, moral enthusiasm and unselfishness than was found in any other circle. Slavery is, indeed, dead, but the blows that killed it were not dealt by orators or philanthropists. It fell under the inexorable power of war. Christian missionaries, in their noble and self-denying labors, fitly illustrate the virtues of the gospel they inculcate; but Mahomet and his successors, the Caliphs, made more converts with the sword, than there are real Christians upon the earth.

In Spain, the despotisms that had for so many centuries rested upon the necks of the people, could not have been broken by moral suasion, or the development of ideas and sentiments among the people. Instances may be cited from history in which the possessors of power have voluntarily relinquished it to their heirs, and gone into cloisters, or taken rank as private citizens. But these instances are not pertinent to the point under consideration. Cases may, also, be adduced in which the holders of power, temporal or spiritual, have instituted reforms upon their own motions; but these cases, if they exist, will, upon close examination, be found to be purely exceptional. In general, it is safe to infer that power tends rather to corrupt all who hold it, unless it be held distinctly as delegated by the people, and even then there will be found abundant cause to conclude that power is like the contagion of leprosy. What would it have availed if Spanish reformers and patriots had expatiated before Queen ISABELLA, her Cardinals and Bishops, upon the excellence and necessity of liberty? They would only have cast pearls before swine. People in high places of arrogated power are always surrounded by an atmosphere of flattery. They hear important truth only by accident. What is uppermost in the minds of the multitudes is studiously concealed from them. A class by themselves, they have no sympathies or longings in common with the masses. It requires the injection of physical force, which they cannot misinterpret, or resist, to make them comprehend that society has progressed, while they have remained stationary; that new thoughts and aspirations have been indulged, new purposes taken root so that they cannot be torn up; while they have been cherishing the traditionary and effete systems that descended to them from their fathers.

It ever has been so, and ever will be. This priceless boon of Freedom which the people of the United States enjoy—whence came it? Was it the natural income of peaceful development? Was it borne simply of philosophic or didactic inculcation? Alas! by no means. It came into being, and had its nurture, on battle-fields. The guns of Lexington and Bunker Hill, of Saratoga and Yorktown, gave it the right to be. Long years of earnest and sharp discussion preceded the appeal to arms. That discussion enlightened the people, but did not subdue or mollify the determination of the British government to retain and wield its ancient authority according to its own pleasure. That government gave way finally, not to reason and conviction, but to a force that through the aid of adventitious circumstances proved stronger than its own.

These general considerations, and the Spanish example by which they are illustrated, show what precious legacies have come to the people of the United States through the war for the preservation of the Union. Slavery, which else might have prolonged its existence indefinitely, went down into the depths, to be seen no more forever. The war power smote it, and it perished. Nor did this issue of slavery relate, as the Conservatives foolishly pretended, only to the enslaved race. Gigantic national wrongs, or great wrongs of any description, do not visit their baleful effects exclusively upon their palpable and immediate victims. If that institution crushed the slaves, it debased and brutalized the masters. Action and reaction is the same in political systems as in purely physical forces. Nor was the reaction confined to the master. Northern sentiment was immeasurably perverted. Even the sanctuary of national jurisprudence was desecrated. On the very altar of public justice were offered sacrifices to demons. Nor was this development unusual. A powerful tendency always exists in nations to conform their political to their social institutions. Discrepancies between the two are unnatural, and cannot permanently remain. Hence, slavery while it lived was a standing menace to Freedom, both political and social, throughout the whole country. From its ashes a thousand blessings are destined to grow, making the republic all free, and homogeneous in its freedom, and invincible because animated by mutual convictions and impulses.

But, let us, before closing, use the example of Spain for another purpose. We have seen that under the tranquil and silent surface of Spanish life, a profound agitation was going on. Men questioned their own souls; questioned Nature even to the depths of her innermost mysteries, and then questioned each other as best they could under the repressive laws to which they were subject. The result of these various questionings was a political earthquake. What was demonstrated in this country during the Rebellion, has been demonstrated over again in Spain—the masses of the people are in advance of their nominal leaders. In how many other countries, does the apparent quiet and repose of the surface, mislead the men who occupy the posts of honor and power, as to what thoughts are seething below, and what purposes are growing to ripe and resistless consummation?

SUFFRAGE—THE TWO PROPOSITIONS.

As the Amendment passed the House, it read as follows:

"Be it resolved, &c., two-thirds of both Houses concurring, That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be held as part of said Constitution, namely:

"Article —. Section 1. The right of any citizen of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged, by the United States or any State, by reason of race, color, or previous condition of slavery of any citizen or class of citizens of the United States.

"Section 2. That Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article."

This the Senate amended as below—adopting the XVth article on Mr. WILSON'S motion, and the XVIth on motion of Gov. MORTON:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, &c., two-thirds of both Houses concurring, That the following articles be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, either of which when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures shall be held as a part of said Constitution, namely:

Article 15. No discrimination shall be made in the United States, among the citizens of the United States, in the exercise of the elective franchise, or in the right to hold office in any State, on account of race, color, nativity, property, education or creed.

Article 16. The second clause, first section, second article of the Constitution of the United States, shall be amended to read as follows:

Each State shall appoint, by a vote of the people thereof qualified to vote for Representatives in Congress, a number of electors equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector; and the Congress shall have power to prescribe the manner in which such electors shall be chosen by the people.

The vote in the House was 150 to 42, and in the Senate 40 to 16, for the respective propositions. One of them must yield.

OF THE Supreme Court decision, in the Oregon case, which is to the effect that greenbacks are not legally a tender for what is not a debt, the New York Post observes:

"The most curious and sweeping result is to destroy utterly the Pendleton doctrine of payment of the five-twenty bonds in greenbacks. These bonds are redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after five years, but payable only at the expiration of twenty years from their date. They become a debt only after twenty years; and since greenbacks are decided to be legal tenders only for that which is strictly a debt, and not for other obligations, they are not a legal tender from the United States for the payment of any obligation which is only redeemable and not payable; such as the five-twenty bonds.

THE New York Tribune of the 8th says:

"The testimony of the President of the Erie Railway Company, before the Investigating Committee at Albany, acknowledging the bankrupt condition of the Company, was considered a full justification of the Pennsylvania Legislature in preventing the Fort Wayne road from being swamped by that concern. The sale of $23,000,000 of convertible bonds at 40, and the statement of the officers of the Company that unless they can continue to issue more they will lose control of the road, fully warrants any solvent road in keeping out of their clutches by any means they can bring to bear."

THIS, from the Cincinnati Commercial, hits the mark:

"If there is good sense and common honesty at Columbus concerning the various railroad bills before the Legislature, there will not be any hurry in making laws of any of them. We do not wish either the Erie or the Pennsylvania Central road to have a monopoly in Ohio, and all the restrictive railroad legislotion now proposed should be regarded with vigilant suspicion, as prepared in the interest of one of the great rival roads, and therefore improper."

THE Harrisburg Telegraph makes this interesting statement:

The expense of the present House of Representatives will be over forty-four thousand dollars less than it was during former years, and that too when the Democratic party was in power. In addition to all that, the appropriations for different objects will be about one million less than were formerly appropriated, and, notwithstanding this reduction, the appropriation for all proper objects will be liberal.

A Fact for the Life Insured.

A circumstance has recently come to our notice unknown to the great mass of insured and which should be known to all who venture on the vast lake and broad ocean, where men and ships may go down with no one left to tell the story as evidence that any person or persons were lost.

A ship, having for its Captain one whose life was insured in a Philadelphia office, with the privilege of going by sea or land to any part of the world, sailed from Glasgow, Scotland, for Bombay, December 3, 1867. Nothing has since been heard of vessel or crew. December 3, 1868, the vessel was considered lost by the companies insuring it, and the cargo insurance was paid, one year from the time of sailing being the rule.

On examination, it was found that that life policy was without a precedent in this country or Europe, as far as could be ascertained by those best posted in the States. Seven years would be proof of death and all this time the annual premium would be demanded of the party holding the policy, who would, during the entire period, be deprived of the use of the money, and thus at the time the widow and fatherless most needed the money, they would be denied it. Persons having policies, and who may cross ocean or lake, should see to them in this respect. Contrary to all known precedents and all rules of companies the loss in the case referred to was promptly paid, much to the credit of the company.

WHY IS IT

That the feeble totter, with uncertain steps, over the face of the earth, in danger every day of falling victims to the morbid influences by which we all are surrounded, when a tested and proven vegetable tonic, capable of endowing them with the vigor they need, is procurable in every city, town and settlement? It might reasonably be thought that after twelve years' experience which the world has had of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, ALL would know that its effect is to prevent disease.

At this season, the atmosphere is surcharged with the seeds, intermittents, remittents, rheumatism, pulmonary disorders, bilious complaints and the like. Persons whose nervous systems are relaxed, are the first to succumb to these distempers. Brace up the physical energies, then, with this potential vegetable tonic. It is the most powerful recuperant which the botanic kingdom has ever yielded to patient research and experiment. TRY IT. The blindest disciple of the old medical dogmas will at least admit that a tonic and alterative, compounded of approved herbs, roots and barks, can do no harm, while the testimony of thousands invites a trial of its virtues.

Vigor is the thing most needed in these cases, as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affectations, and HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is the safest, surest and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted. As a tonic, it is both mild and agreeable to the taste, and stimulating in its action upon the system.

Hundreds of physicians have abandoned all the official receipts, and prescribed this harmless tonic as a preventive and cure for all cases of chills and Fever.

THE SOUND OF THE LUNGS.

One of the most accurate ways of determining whether the lungs are in a healthy or diseased condition, is by means of listening to the respiration. To those experienced in this practice it becomes as plain an index to the state of the lungs, and is as well known to the operator as are the voices of his most intimate acquaintances. The belief that long standing coughs, and diseases of the lungs upon which they are dependent, are incurable, are fast becoming obsolete. One great advantage to be gained from this advance in medical knowledge is the earlier application of those who become afflicted with those diseases to some one competent to afford relief. The error which had taken hold of the public mind in regard to the curability of consumption, or rather non-curability, is fast becoming obliterated, and it is well that it should be so, not that persons should lose that salutary fear which would make them apply for a timely remedy, but that all might be induced to use remedies while there is any hope. It is the delay in these cases that fills us with apprehension and alarm, for if every one would make timely application of DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE in the beginning of a cold or cough, few cases would go so far as to become irremediable.

Sold at the Doctor's great Medicine Store, No. 140 Wood street. WILL SHORTLY REMOVE TO HIS NEW STORE, NO. 16 LIBERTY STREET, SECOND DOOR FROM ST CLAIR.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA.

Its Location, Population, Advantages, &c.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW BRIGHTON, February 12, 1869.

New Brighton is situated on the Big Beaver river, two and a half miles from its junction with the Ohio river. It is twenty-nine miles from Pittsburgh, and three miles from Beaver Town, the county seat of Beaver county. The Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway passes through the town, thus affording from five to six opportunities of going to and returning from the city daily.

The situation of the town is very good whether we have reference to business or a pleasant home. The landscape is beautiful, especially in summer and autumn, when the foliage and fruits of the trees and gardens add their coloring to the scene as well as impregnate the atmosphere with healthful and pleasant odors.

The town occupies three planes, each rising above the other as you go back from the river, forming little bluffs running parallel with the river. With the exception of these bluffs, the streets are not far from level.

The mills, of which I will inform you hereafter, are on the river bank and driven by water.

The principal part of the business is on the second plane; the third is occupied mainly by private residences. The town is over a mile long and about a mile wide, and is divided into three wards.

The population is about 4,500, made up principally of Americans, with a sprinkle of English.

EDUCATIONAL ADVANTAGES.

Our public schools are graded the same as in the cities. Buildings are good, perhaps a little crowded, as the rising generation is quite numerous.

Besides the public schools we have a select school for girls, taught by a lady, and the "Kenwood" School" for boys, (Rev. Mr. Taylor's) which does quite a fine business in the line of preparing young men for College.

This would be an excellent place it is thought for a Female "Seminary." There is a suitable building, originally built for that purpose, as I understand, but has been used as a "Retreat" for invalids and lunatics, It is for sale, the proprietor feeling too much the effects of age to continue that kind of business. A Seminary or College should be made of it.

Here is an opportunity for persons who desire to be useful to their fellow immortals. They who employ their time and talents in aiding in the intellectual and moral development of those who will have, to a large extent, the moulding of the minds and characters of the next generation, deserve to be remembered among the benefactors of our race.

In my next article I will show up the business advantages of the place.

Yours, &c., C.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, February 12, 1869.

The U. S. sloop of war Canandaigua, commander Strong, from Gibraltar, November 10th, arrived yesterday.

A report is in circulation that Ophilus C. Callicott, who was sent to the Albany penitentiary some time ago, had received a pardon from the President. The rumor is, however, not traced to an authentic source.

Michael Quinn was killed by falling from the front platform of an Erie street Jersey City car, the wheels of which passed over his body. Quinn is the young man who a short time since acquired considerable notoriety by marrying a young Chicago school girl, who was spirited away from him by her relatives.

It having become evident that neither of the cases in which Blaisdell is defendant can be tried at this term of Court, it was decided Thursday to send him to Sing Sing to serve out his three years' sentence for whiskey frauds. He seemed surprised at being sentenced longer than expected. He said, "Its hardly worth while to send me, as I expect a pardon by Saturday, or Monday certainly, at the farthest."

—Governor Brownlow has issued a proclamation stating that he has given the certificates of election to Tillman and Smith, the Republican candidates for Congress in the Bedford and Memphis (Tennessee) districts. He arrived at the result by throwing out the votes of certain counties and districts. Both seats will be contested.

—Governor Brownlow, of Tennessee, has tendered his resignation to the Legislature, to take effect on the 27th inst.

—A special says it is expected General Sherman will be offered and accept the position of Minister to England.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, February 12, 1868.

The gold market keeps steady but dull, fluctuating from 135 to 138½, with an increase of short sales. The bull operators are discouraged, and have mostly sold out their gold awaiting for a more favorable turn of the market, and towards the end of the month may unite with the bears in bringing down quotations still more. The daily shipments of bonds and other securities have increased so much recently that any shipments of coin will thereby be obviated, and our trade balance so unfavorable, will be entirely liquidated by the sale of securities.

Government bonds which looked dull for a time, on Thursday, were very strong, and advanced about one-half per cent. for new 1865s, and ¾ on 1867s; old 1865s are nearly up to the 1862s, and 1881's command over 114, the highest point yet reached, a large short interest in 1867 forced parties to buy at any price, and the demand from Europe being steadily increased makes dealers anxious to lay in stock in time.

Stocks are dull, and the interest centers are entirely in Government bonds; there is no disposition whatever to operate in stocks at present prices, yet parties dealing in them look to much higher prices, and the upward movement may set in at any moment.

Business is improving, and money less stringent.

Quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 135½; Silver, 130; Eighty-one's, 114; Five Twenties, 1862, 114¼; do 1864, 111⅜; do 1865, 113¾; do 1865, Consols, 110; do 1867, 110⅝; do 1868, 110⅜; Ten Forties, 109¾; New York Central, 164¼; Erie, ——; Reading; 94½; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, 117¾; Ohio & Mississippi, 35¾; Michigan Southern, 94½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 92; Chicago & Rock Island, 31½; Chicago & North Western, 83¾; Chicago & North Western Preferred, 91¾; Adams Express Company, 67; Merchants Union Express, 19; Pacific Mail, 113; Western Union Telegraph Company; 37¾; Gregory, 2,45; Quartz Hill, 68; Corydon, 10; Smith & Parmele, 1,95.

—The attempt to tack upon the Hooper bill a section allowing the reconversion of registered into coupon bonds, is stimulated by private rather than public interests. Registered 1862 bonds are unavailable for shipment, the foreign demand being exclusively for coupon bonds. Should this section become a law, a few speculating holders of registered bonds would be able to make a difference by converting into coupon bonds and replacing them with the later issues which sell at lower prices, and this is the whole secret of the pressure upon Congress for this measure. The chief objection to this exchange is the enormous expense of reopening the public printing offices to furnish the bonds as the interests of speculators may require. The expense would probably not be less than $1,000,000 per year, which in the next twenty years would amount to the sum of $20,000,000 of additional taxes to be raised from the people, who have sufficient burden to bear now. No public interest suffers from the present state of affairs, and it is to be hoped that Congress will not assent to a stock jobbing measure of this sort.—N. Y. Tribune.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, February 12, 1869.

The market was comparatively easy to-day, but little done and not very much of a disposition manifested to do anything. The brokers generally seem to be busy, but they were unable to accomplish much, buyers and sellers being too far apart. Refiners do not seem disposed to sell unless they can get extreme prices, while the market is not in a condition to justify this, and, as a consequence, the volume of business was comparatively light. February is firm, with considerable inquiry, with sales at a slight advance over yesterday's prices, while beyond this month and March, there seemed to be a slight weakness manifested with more sellers than buyers at quotations. Crude was a little weak for immediate delivery, while lines running from April to June, and July to December were in request at former quotations.

CRUDE.

The most remarkable feature we have to notice connected with the Crude market is a slight decline in spot oil, which sold down to 18, and, late in the afternoon, was offered at that figure (40 to 45) without finding buyers. The sales were 500 bbls spot at 18¼; 350 at 18, and 1,000 each month July to September at 18¼. We are cognizant of an offer to buy April to June at 18¼, and an offer to sell February to December, 1,000 each month, at 18.

REFINED.

As already intimated, February was a shade stronger than yesterday with sales of three 500 bbl lots at 39, which is an advance of from a quarter to a half cent. Sellers options, running from March to June or July to December, were quoted a little weak at 38. Buyers, option, next six months, 39, and same option all year, 42.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Allegheny Water Supply.

To the Honorable Select and Common Councils of Allegheny City:

The undersigned citizens of Allegheny respectfully invite the attention of your Honorable bodies to the accompanying report of W. Milnor Roberts, Esq., Consulting Engineer, &c., on the subject of the new Pittsburgh water works.

From the report it appears that the engineer's approximate estimate of the cost of complete works to supply a population of 500,000 souls, with pure water taken from the Allegheny river, at a point beyond the drainage of East Liberty and Sharpsburg, is $3,210,000.

That such part of this general plan as would answer the purpose of the next few years, could be erected for the sum of $1,663,000.

That the cost of works of like capacity, using water power to be created by the construction of a dam across the Allegheny river, instead of steam power, is now estimated at $3,098,000.

That on the water power plan an expenditure of $1,663,000 within the next two or three years would supply about double the present capacity of the Pittsburgh water works.

That the daily cost of the supply by water power would probably be only one-third of the cost of an equal supply by steam power, and that for this and other reasons it is quite probable that the water power for this purpose will be found preferable to steam power.

The same considerations which have compelled the Councils of Pittsburgh to examine the subject here presented, have already pressed themselves upon the attention of your honorable bodies and the people of Allegheny. The reports of the Water Committee go to show that the present works barely supply the consumption for ordinary purposes. The rapid increase of our population, the safety of the property of the citizen and the present and prospective requirements for municipal cleanliness and embellishment, seem to demand that early, if not immediate measures, be taken to increase the quantity of water supplied. Even if this were not the case, a reasonable care for the health of the present population will shortly compel the removal of the source of supply to some point beyond the corporation limits. Should the Pittsburgh project be carried out, this consideration, coupled with the ease with which they can receive their supplies of water across the river, will probably induce the enterprising boroughs of Sharpsburg and Etna to connect themselves with our sister corporation instead of our own.

If we assume that half the sum estimated for the new Pittsburgh water works will suffice to erect water works at some point above Sharpsburg, with the necessary basin conduits, &c., of a capacity suitable to the prospective increase of population in Allegheny for a reasonable term of years, we find that the expenditure of the two cities for this purpose would be—

Pittsburgh	$3,210,000
Allegheny	1,605,000
Making an aggregate sum of..	$4,815,000

The undersigned believe that it is entirely practicable for the city of Allegheny to receive her supplies of water from the works projected by the city of Pittsburgh—that the quantity of water proposed to be supplied thereby would be ample for both corporations for many years, and that by concert of action in the construction and arrangement of the works, conduits, basins, etc., a large sum—probably not less than a million and a half dollars—can be saved to the tax pavers of the two cities.

Should the water power plan be adopted, the advantage of co-operation is still more apparent. The location of the dam across the river at a point which would answer the purpose for both cities, would result in a large saving, even if the other part of the works should be constructed independently by each.

In view of these considerations, the undersigned deem it proper to memorialize your honorable bodies to take such action as will lead to a conference with the authorities of Pittsburgh, with a view to secure the erection of Water Works conjointly, and suitable to the requirements of both cities.

Very Respectfully, &c.,

FELIX R. BRUNOT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE

ECONOMY BUTTER CO.

ask the attention of all interested in the reduction of the extravagant cost of Butter, to their practical and economical system of making pure prime Butter by the aid of the

EXTRACT OF BUTTER PLANT.

A brief allusion to the origin of this important discovery may not prove uninteresting. Among the authenticated records of the renowned Captain Cook's voyage around the world, is found the statement, that while sojourning for a short time on the Brazilian Coast of South America, he observed the natives using, in the preparation of their food, a peculiar oil, which, upon examination, he found to possess the appearance, taste and flavor of Butter; upon further inquiry, however, he ascertained that it was simply a substance that the natives distilled in a crude and imperfect manner, from a rich and luxuriant plant that grew spontaneously and abundantly in that warm tropical country. A few years ago, an eminent French chemist, while on a professional visit to the tropics, made numerous experiments with this remarkable production of nature, and succeeded in extracting a concentrated essence of the plant. The formula for its preparation, and the Sole Right for its sale in this country are the exclusive property of this Company, by whom it was purchased from the original discoverer. We claim for this remarkable, yet simple and perfectly harmless preparation—

1st.—That by its use a net gain of from 50 to 200 per cent. is made in the manufacture of Butter.

2d.—That Butter, which from age or whatever cause, may be strong, rancid, streaked or coarse-grained, and comparatively useless for general use, by the aid of this Extract, is restored to its original freshness and sweetness, fine-grain, and even color.

3d.—By the use of this Extract, one pound of delicious, fresh Butter is actually made from one pint of milk.

4th.—That a pure and excellent table Butter can be made, at a cost of from 15 to 20 cents per pound. The chief expense wherein being Butter, which is the essential base.

5th.—That Butter manufactured by the aid of this Extract is equal in every respect to the best Butter made by the ordinary method.

6th.—The Extract after thorough analysis, by able chemists, is pronounced perfectly free from any deleterious substance, the ingredients being purely of a vegetable nature.

8th.—In proof of the foregoing assertions, the factory of this company is making one ton of Butter per day, which meets with ready sale in the New York Market, and is consumed from the tables of the first Hotels, Restaurants and Private families in this city and elsewhere.

A sample package of the Extract (sufficient to make 50 lbs. of Butter) with full directions for use, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1.

CAUTION.—As articles of real merit are subject to spurious imitations, we would specially caution the public against counterfeits and worthless imitations, advertised as powders, compounds, &c., as the Extract of the Butter Plant is prepared and sold only by

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Allegheny Police will be paid off to-day.

The Police Expenses of Allegheny were over two thousand dollars last month.

Fifth Avenue was remarkably crowded with pedestrians yesterday, most of whom were ladies.

Olive Logan will deliver the next lecture before the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association.

Special Meeting.—A special meeting of the Pittsburgh Councils will be held this afternoon at two o'clock.

Severe Fall.—James Richey fell from a ladder while working in the car stables of the Citizens Passenger Railway, on Thursday afternoon. His shoulder was dislocated by the fall. Dr. Robinson attended him.

Local News.—On our seventh page this morning will be found an important paper on the Water Supply of Allegheny City, Real Estate Transfers, New Patents Granted, City Mortality, Court Reports and Brief Telegrams.

Fined.—A youth, named Robert Holliday, was fined three dollars by Mayor Drum, yesterday, for appropriating several of the principal thoroughfares of Allegheny as a race course for the exhibition af his horse's speed.

Removal.—The office of H. M. Long & Co., has been removed from the corner of Hancock street and Duquesne Way, to the Dalzell building. Messrs. Long & Co., have changed the brand of their oil from Lucifer to "Diamond."

Scalded to Death.—A little colored child named Butler, about two years of age, was scalded to death at the residence of its parents, in the Seventeenth ward, on Wednesday evening, by falling into a tub of hot water. No inquest was held.

Nuisance.—Officer McMullen made information yesterday against two trunk dealers on Wood street for obstructing the sidewalk. The parties were arrested, and after a hearing before His Honor, the Mayor, were fined ten dollars and costs, upon the payment of which they were discharged.

A Velocipedestrian attracted considerable attention yesterday afternoon by manipulating the machine backward and forward on the platform connected with the depot of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, Federal street. It was suggested that he was training for a race with the Iron Horse.

Forestalling.—Mrs. Broderick, proprietress of an up-town grocery, was arrested yesterday by market officer Mossner, on a charge of forestalling the market. She was taken before Mayor Brush, who imposed a fine of five dollars on her, and upon the payment of the fine and costs she was discharged.

Hearing Waived.—William Diehl, Robert Campbell and James M'Kee, three of the parties charged before Mayor Drum with maintaining a "faro bank" above the Delmonico saloon, Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, waived a hearing yesterday afternoon and gave bail in the sum of $2,000 each for trial.

Fire at Altoona.—A destructive fire occurred at Altoona about two o'clock yesterday morning, by which the office of the Vindicator, published by James F. Campbell, formerly of this city, a frame house, the residence of Mr. R. A. O. Kerr, and the dwelling and store room of Mr. J. Berowitz, were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

Slight Explosion.—Yesterday morning a slight explosion occurred in the cellar of Erwin & Co.'s dry goods house. No. 178 Federal street, Allegheny, caused by a leak in the main gas pipe. The damage was inconsiderable. An alarm of fire was struck from box 34, which brought the fire department out, but their services were not needed.

Compromised.—Anna M'Matter was brought before Alderman Taylor yesterday, on a charge of larceny by bailee, preferred against her by Richard Kingan. Richard stated that Anna obtained possession of a silver watch belonging to him valued at twenty dollars, which she refused to return. The case, after some considerable talk, was compromised by the return of the watch.

For a Fragrant Havana, a choice article of smoking or chewing tobacco, a palatable snuff, an elegant meerchaum, a beautiful cigar tube, or anything in the tobacco line, the reader should call at the extensive wholesale and retail tobacco house of Mr. John Megraw, No. 45 Ninth, late Hand street. Dealers who buy to sell again, as well as retail patrons, will discover that they can deal nowhere else to better advantage.

The Popularity of the Keystone Pottery of S. M. Kier & Co., office 363 Liberty street, is daily increasing, and orders come pouring in from all parts of the western country. Housekeepers should know that it is pure economy to purchase home made Bristol and Queensware, which they can obtain at much less cost than inferior importations. All grocers and dealers have for sale the wares of the Keystone Pottery. Ask for them. Give them a trial and you will be satisfied.

Mrs. Siddons, the eminent English actress and reader, closed her engagement with the Mercantile Library Association last night, appearing before a large, fashionable and appreciative audience assembled at the Academy. At the close of "Ann Hathaway," an English poem recited with decided cleverness, the audidence showered the stage with boquets, and manifested their approval in a burst of applause which told plainly of the impression the sprightly reader has made upon our people.

Church Sociable.—The members of the Second United Presbyterian Church, Sixth avenue, Rev. T. H. Hanna, pastor, will have a congregational re-union in the Lecture Room of the Church on next Friday evening, 19th inst. Judging from the exertions the good ladies of the congregation are making, the "Sociable" promises to be one of the most interesting affairs of the kind that has ever taken place in the congregation. The ladies who have the matter in charge know how to make it a success, and they will do it.

Closed.—The fair and festival for the benefit of the Centenary M. E. Church, which commenced in Lafayette Hall, Wednesday, closed last evening with very gratifying results. Of the various articles voted for Mrs. C. C. Love won the music box, Mr. George W. Silvey the ink stand, Mrs. Hillerman the vases, Mrs. Duff the wax cross, Mr. Robert Inder the writing desk, and Mrs. Wm. Moore the dressing case. We understand the proceeds of the fair netted quite a handsome sum, equal to the expectations of the most sanguine.

Painful Accident.—Thursday afternoon Peter Joyce, while engaged in repairing the track of the Panhandle Railroad, near West Pittsburgh, had his leg broken below the knee, by a piece of rock which rolled down from the hillside. He was removed to his house in South Pittsburgh, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. S. Roberts.

Alleged Coat Stealing.—Wm. Seville was arrested by the Allegheny police yesterday on an information for larceny, preferred against him about a month since by Charles Clopfer, a clothier, doing business on Ohio street. It is alleged that the accused and a companion entered the store, and while one attracted the attention of the proprietor the other secured the coat and made off. After a hearing Seville was committed to jail for trial, in default of bail.

A Fishy Story.—D. W. Garrett lodged information before Alderman McMasters yesterday, against W. D. Welsh, for false pretence. Garrett alleges that Welsh purchased fish from him to the amount of $11.40, on credit, by representing that he owned a piece of property in the Seventh ward, worth from one thousand to fifteen hundred dollars, which statement, it is alleged, was altogether a fiction of an exceedingly powerful imagination. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Sabbath School Institute.—The Sabbath schools of the Reformed and United Presbyterian churches of Allegheny county will hold their second annual institute in Dr. Clark's church, Allegheny, on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Last year the proceedings of the institute, which were published at great length in the GAZETTE, attracted considerable attention, and were highly interesting. The exercises promise to be still more interesting this year. All the congregations in the county, connected with these churches, are requested to send delegates.

Fire Alarm Charms.—Messrs. James R. Reed & Co., the well known and enterprising jewelers and time-keepers, No. 68 Fifth avenue, have just imported direct from Paris a full supply of watch-guard charms, made to their order, which contain in photographic printing a complete list of the fire alarm boxes of this city, with their numbers. The card occupies a space not much larger than a pin's head, and yet in the tiny spy-glass is magnified as plain as block letter printing. They are sold at only fifteen cents each, and are worth a much greater sum to the purchaser.

Alarm of Fire—Good Time.—Eleven o'clock yesterday morning an alarm of fire was sounded from box No. 34, Allegheny, occasioned by the explosion of a gas pipe in the basement of Erwin, McConnell & Co.'s dry goods store, Federal street. The fire department of the city was promptly on the ground, but their services were not required, no damage being done. In connection with this notice we might say that the Friendship Hose Company made probably as good time as on record in the department of that city, being on the ground inside of one minute and a half from the time the alarm was struck.

Concert in New Brighton.

On Thursday evening a large audience filled the Concert Hall, at New Brighton, to enjoy a rare treat in an amateur vocal and instrumental concert by a company of ladies and gentlemen from the city. The concert was for the benefit of the Sabbath School of the United Presbyterian Church, and was given by Prof. William Rupp, assisted by Mrs. James L. Patterson and Messrs. Kanake, Lawton, White, Pollock, Irvin, Snowden and Benitz. It was a decided success, in a pecuniary way, but especially in the satisfaction of the audience and the honor of the performers. The selections were of the highest order, and were rendered in the best style. From the opinions expressed on every hand as the audience dispersed we are pursuaded another opportunity to hear the same persons will be welcomed.

Religious Intelligence.

The Chair of Systematic Divinity in the General Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, at New York, has been made vacant by the resignation of the venerable Professor Johnson, who for eighteen years has adorned the position by his great learning and zealous labors. Among the nominations to fill the vacancy we notice the names of Rev. J. F. Spaulding, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Erie, and Rev. Dr. Egar, Rector of St. Peters Church, Pittsburgh, either of whom would most worthily fill the place. Dr. Egar, we know, is a gentleman of great erudition. His life has been much devoted to study, and few, if any, in the Church are so thoroughly read in ecclesiastical and general literature, or better qualified by his devoted piety and varied attainments to occupy a prominent place in any institution of learning.

Another Victim.

A girl about fifteen years of age, the daughter of respectable parents, who, it appears, has been led from the path of virtue and lured into one of the many dens of infamy with which the city abounds, was arrested yesterday at the instance of her father and taken before Mayor Brush, who, at the parent's request, sent her to the House of Refuge. The first step taken by this frail young creature on the road to ruin, it appears, was to attend a ball given at Philo Hall, where, it is said, lewd women and dissolute men were congregated, when she made the acquaintance of one of the many libertines whose only object in life appears to be the gratification or indulgence of lust and the destruction of female virtue, and who, aided by his lewd and lascivious companions, accomplished his designs. The girl at length became so infatuated with her new companions that she left home and took up her abode with them, and utterly refused to return to her parents.

Lecture by Mr. McGuinness.

We call the attention of our readers to the fact, as announced in our advertising columns, that Mr. McGuinness will deliver a lecture on Thursday night next at Turners' Hall, on the "Poets of Irish History." The subject is one where a large field is open for the exercise of that historical research, which we believe the lecturer possesses. Mr. McGuinness lectured on these matters some time ago in Pittsbnrgh, and, we have learned, gave much pleasure and satisfaction to those who on that occasion attended. We understand that this gentleman was one of the men who participated along with Allen, Larkin and O'Brien, in the rescue of Col. Kelly and Capt. Deasy in the streets of Manchester, England, for which he deserves a portion, at least, of that merit, his countrymen so lavishly bestow upon those three Irish martyrs to liberty, now when it can be of no use to them. We trust, therefore, that the attendance at Mr. McGuinness' lecture will be such as to show that his countrymen are not unmindful of the living, in their devotion to dead patriots.

Raid on a Dance House—Thirty of the Inmates Captured.

The Continental Hotel, on Plum alley, in rear of the Mansion House, has for some time past been the resort for a large number of men and women of questionable reputation, and in consequence thereof became a nuisance in the neighborhood. The Mayor resolved to break up the establishment, and officer Daniel McMullin yesterday morning made information charging the proprietor of the establishment, Ed. McCafferty, with keeping a disorderly house.

About twelve o'clock last night the police made a raid upon the establishment and captured twenty-six men and four women. The victims were conducted to the watch-house, when the women, Kate Raney, Alice Hall, Mary Murphy and Mary White, and eight of the men, were locked up for a hearing this morning. The remaining eighteen men were released upon depositing ten dollars each with Captain Reed, as security for their appearance at the Mayor's Court this morning.

If the raid had been made about an hour sooner, it would have been more successful, as it appears that in the early part of the night there were about twenty or thirty women present, participating in the festivities of the occasion, as was their nightly practice; but having received information that a raid was contemplated, took their departure about eleven o'clock, and thereby escaped the trap which had been prepared for them. Their time will come, however, as it is only a question of time with all such creatures.

The Mayor's Court will be interesting this morning, and will doubtless be well attended.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Ettie Henderson, the pleasing artiste who during the past week has been entertaining the public at the Opera House, took a benefit last night. The "Hidden Hand" and "Lola Montez" constituted the programme for the evening, and the audience which was a highly appreciative one, were well pleased with the entertainment, and expressed their gratification by frequent rounds of applause. At the matinee this afternoon the entertainment will commence with the "Lancashire Lass" and conclude with the sensation of "Punch and Judy." The bill for the evening entertainment is a most excellent one, consisting of "Kathleen Mavourneen," to be followed by "Katty O'Sheal," and to conclude with "Ben. Bolt."

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The Gregory combination troupe, which has been drawing so well at the old Theatre for the past week, will give a grand matinee this afternoon for the benefit of ladies and children, and the closing entertainment of the engagement will take place this evening. An excellent programme is announced for both entertainments, and a full house may be anticipated. Wednesday evening next Dr. James L. Thayer's circus will open for a short season.

SMYTHE'S AMERICAN THEATRE.—The entertainments at this establishment during the past week have been excellent and the attendance quite large. The programme for this evening's entertainment is brilliant, and will doubtless draw a full house. The French can-can, Nellie Taylor's "Pocahontas," Smythe as the Dutchman, and Morley's "Punch and Judy" form a part of the attractions which will be presented.

A Home Institution.

Those of our readers who desire to see a home institution prosper, will be pleased to learn of the success of the Ben Franklin Insurance Company of Allegheny, as is evinced by its late removal into one of the most cosy, neat and handsome edifices in either city, especially fitted up for it at No. 41 Ohio street.

Commencing under favorable auspices and with a Board of Directors well known for prudence and judgment, this Company has steadily advanced in popularity and favor, and at present, although comparatively a new organization, it ranks second to none in reputation for safety, soundness and reliability—the direct result of good management, and a very satisfactory proof of the success which invariably attends energetic efforts, business tact and fair dealing in any enterprise. Relying upon this method of conducting affairs, and with the increased facilities afforded by the new quarters, the Directors expect to largely increase the business during the present year, in which expectation we hardly think they will be disappointed. We heartily and conscientiously commend the Company to the patronage of the public, feeling assured that in their intercourse and transactions with either the gentlemanly Secretary, Mr. George D. Riddle, or any of the other officers they will not fail to receive perfect satisfaction.

False Alarm.

This morning about one o'clock an alarm of fire was struck from box 26, located at the corner of Beaver and Water streets, Allegheny. The firemen were promptly on the ground, but the alarm proved to be false, and they returned to their quarters, showering curses both loud and deep upon the head of the scoundrel who sounded the alarm. We understand that this is the second false alarm during this week, and it is no wonder the firemen were angry. The chap who amused himself in this way may now think it quite funny, but if he happens to find himself deprived of his liberty and kept on bread and water in jail a few months, perhaps he will afterwards adopt some more lawful and honorable method of enjoying himself.

While proceeding along Ohio street in answer to the signal the hind axle of the Ellsworth Hose Carriage gave way, allowing one of the wheels to roll off to one side and letting the body of the carriage fall to the ground. It seems a miracle that none of those riding on it were hurt, as the horse attached to the vehicle was on a gallop at the time of the accident. The carriage will be repaired and ready for service in a day or two.

Lots on Fremont Street and Irwin Avenue, Allegheny, at Auction.

That magnificent lot, 92 by 300 feet, facing on Fremont street and Irwin avenue, opposite the western terminus of Carrol street, is to be sold on Monday next. The house contains ten rooms. If not sold entire, it will be offered in sections. There are eight beautiful buildings on this plot. The street cars go along Fremont street, which is one of the finest driving streets in the city. A careful inspection of this property will repay the visitor. The auctioneer, Mr. A. Leggate, will furnish all information.

For Rent—House.—A fine large brick double house, with all the modern improvements, surrounded with grapes, fruit trees and shrubbery. Rent not so much of an object as a good tenant. For terms, &c., call at GAZETTE Counting Room.

Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company.

A statement of the business and assets of this Company, advertised in another column, affords all required evidence of the strong and staple character of the institution, so that persons who shall determine, as all prudent men should do, to have a policy on their lives as a wise provision, the posthumous welfare of their families may rest assured that at their deaths the utmost dollar of the sum insured will be paid to their surviving family. This important pre-requisite being all right, the real important matter is to know that the agent with whom the business is transacted is also all right. In this respect the Company has been peculiarly fortunate, Rev. Joseph S. Travelli having consented to take this agency. Mr. Travelli's whole life hitherto has been devoted to doing good. With him to do right and to do good are native instincts. It is because he regards life insurance a most beneficent thing, and wishes to diffuse its blessings more widely, that he engages in an active and personal agency for the Penn Mutual Insurance Company. The choice by the Company of its agent, and the choice by the agent of the Company, are evidences of mutual wisdom, which we feel sure will in due time be attested by a large and prosperous business.

On our fourth page is chronicled a very rare case in life assurance, wherein it is recorded that a company paid the policy promptly on a death of a Captain of a vessel lost at sea. It will suffice here to state that the Company performing this clever and just act was the Penn Mutual.

Explosive Burning Oils.

We have taken the trouble to collect several samples of the oil sold by retail dealers in the city for burning purposes, and find that, as a general thing, most of the articles exposed for sale are safe, while some of the brands are absolutely dangerous to an extreme. One brand especially, a cheap oil going by the name of "Petroleum Fluid," and purchased at a grocery establishment doing a large retail trade, is worthy of condemnation. It will explode at a very slight heat, and if a piece of lighted paper be held within three inches of an open vessel containing it, will burst into flames. We have the sample of this oil in our possession, and those curious may call at our sanctum and test its highly explosive and inflammable character. If any careless person handles any quantity of this dangerous fluid near a fire a fearful explosion will be the certain result. Let purchasers be aware of the cheap qualities of burning oils exposed for sale in the city.

Grand Opportunities for Bargains.

It rarely happens in this city that such grand opportunities for bargains are offered in trimmings, notions, embroideries, lace goods, ribbons, notions and fancy goods generally, all of superior quality and freshest styles, as those now being obtained at the great sale at No. 27 Fifth Avenue. Messrs. Dennison and Heckert having withdrawn from the business, the stock is offered at sacrificing prices, in order to secure its complete and entire closing out to afford the new tenants of the house possession. The goods are of recent purchase and those who have dealt with that house know that it never contained cheap or inferior articles, and that now although being exposed for sale at mere nominal prices, the bargains are of decidedly high order. Let our readers visit the store during the continuance of the forced clearance and avail themselves of the splendid chances for procuring anything they may need in the line at much less prices than the prime cost. The sale will continue during to-day and all next week, and gentlemanly and efficient clerks will be in constant attendance.

For diseases of the Throat and Lungs our Tar Compound is doing wonders. Dr. Ross' Remedies are manufactured and for sale wholesale and retail, at Nos. 26 and 28 Sixth street, (late St. Clair.) mwf

There is no mistake about it. PLANTATION BITTERS will ward off Fever and Ague and all kindred diseases, if used in time. No family need suffer from this distressing complaint if they will keep PLANTATION BITTERS in the house, and use it according to directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Calisaya Bark is used extensively in the manufacture of PLANTATION BITTERS, as well as quinine, and we dare say they owe their popularity mostly to that fact. We can recommend them.

One more harp is tuned in heaven,
One more happy soul is there,
And a wolf—for Jesus says
'Tis our little Sallie fair.

Yes, now she's realizing
The song she loved so well:

With Jesus Christ to dwell."

God heard her murmured prayer.
Home to His arms he took her,
Free from all pain and care.

GENUINE GLYCERINE TOILET SOAP,

Manufactured by PETER SQUIRE, 227 Oxford street, London.
This soap has been, by a peculiar process, freed from the excess of alkali almost invariably found even in the purest soaps, and at the same time it is made to take up a large quantity of Glycerine (40 per cent.) It is to this latter substance that it chiefly owes its soothing quality—softening the skin, preserving the complexion, preventing chapping and the unpleasant roughness experienced in cold weather. It is found most useful in alleviating the irritation produced by dryness of the skin.
On account of its great purity it recommends itself to all persons that suffer from the use of common soaps; for delicate skins it is the only soap that can be tolerated. It is particularly useful for cleansing diseased skins where the irritation produced by ordinary soaps causes so much inconvenience.
It is the most agreeable shaving soap that can be used, leaving the face soft and comfortable.
The soaps usually sold as Glycerine Soaps contain little or no Glycerine. It is only necessary to apply the tongue to the surface, and the genuine will be distinguished from the spurious by the sweet taste. AGENT,
